The entrance to the carnival grounds will be from Napa St. at Second St. east and from Broadway. It has been decided to make Saturday night a "welcome home" for soldiers and sailors who will be admitted free to the grounds and to the grand ball where Wilson's orchestra will play for dancing. There will be no best day or night at the carnival as both Friday and Saturday are replete with fine features and amusements. Booths will be erected all along the street end each one will be a big attraction in itself. There is to be an ice cream booth, ice drinks, fancy work, a "lemon" tree, home made candy, home made doughnuts, "try your luck" booth, childrens play ground, fortune telling and clairovoyant tests, country store, "hot dogs", home cooked foods and delicatessen, coffee, sandwiches, etc. There is also to be a wonderful circus put on by High School talent, a "chicken" show Friday evening vaudeville and dancing and matinees.

The agricultural exhibit housed in the big army tent at the end of Joyland will be one of the best for this season of the year that has ever been displayed. Over $100 in premiums is offered by the committee and there will be many contenders. DUFFIELD COMES TO SONOMA

Surveyor and Engineer From Hanford Arrives On Request of City Trustees Who Plan to Get Estimate of Highway Through Town.

In response to a letter from City Clerk H. W. Gottenberg asking him to come to Sonoma to survey and make estimates of the cost of permanent street improvements of the type so successfully adopted by Kings county Ben Duffield wired his acceptance and is now looking over the proposed route of modern highway which is planned for the main streets and arteries leading to state and County highway on the southern and western limits of town. Mr. Duffield will plan and estimate the distances to be traversed and will later estimate the cost of putting in tthe asphalt concrete type of road which has stood up under the most rigid tests in Kings county and was pronounced by the Sonoma party who inspected it to be one of the best roads ever traveled over.

Since the personal inspection and recommendation of the committee of eight who went south for the express purpose of investigating the asphalt concrete construction, the Tax Payers Association of Sonoma county and Supervisors are setting up and taking notice while the average citizen who has been told of the immense saving is clamoring that the $1,600,000 voted by the County be put into asphalt concrete roads instead of the much touted concrete.

The plans and specifications of the county highway to Soonma have been approved and accepted and the county clerk instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of this unit

The specifications fill a book of 52 pages and the blueprints cover 13 large sheets. If the underfoot is as well done as the overhead we should have a good road or as good as concrete can be. Sonoma however from the present outlook will adopt asphalt concrete and expects to have the model streets of the county.

HEAVY DAMAGE TO TOMATO CROP

Heat of Last Week Causes Great Loss to Sonoma Growers.

In common with other growers of the state where extreme hot weather was experienced the past week, Sonoma Valley tomato producers suffered a heavy loss from the scorching which the ripening crop got as a result of the unusual intense heat.

It is estimated that half of the crop will be a loss. The cannery was in the midst of its busy beginning on the tomato pack and the prevailing conditions have given the work a setback, although Mr. Sebastiani has been running the big plant right along all week.

Messrs Quartaroli, Maffei and Picchi are among the growers whose crop suffered from the heat. They had among the finest acreage in the valley in tomatoes and the vines were producing heavily up to the time of the hot spell. Mr. Picchi had cultivated the former Tate ranch, now the property of Acquistapace Bros. and P. Quartaroli and Jas. Maffei were growing an unusually fine crop on the Fetters place.

The gentlemen who were unfamiliar with the laws of Sonoma, paid a $5 fine and the city marshal is being congratulated on his high grade detective work.

CATHERINE WHITE LAID TO REST IN VALLEY CEMETERY THURSDAY

Miss Catherine White, sister of the late C. W. White, and aunt of Mrs. S. B. Lewis, passed away at her home in Santa Rosa this week and was laid to rest here Thursday in Valley cemetery. The deceased lady was taken suddenly ill and Mrs. Lewis was summoned hastily to her bedside. She had contracted double pneumonia and the sufferer, who was past 70 years of age, grew gradually worse until Tuesday night when she passed away. She was the last of the family and came from sturdy, pioneer American stock.

Funeral arrangements were by Welti's undertaking company of Santa Rosa whose auto hearse brought the remains here for interment.

Sonoma Vineyardists Take Action And Proceed To Crush Grapes

WINERIES CRUSHING GRAPES TO SAVE GROWERS FROM A RUINOUS AND FARCICAL "WAR TIME" PROHIBITION. ALL AGREE TO OPERATE CRUSHERS AND PASS RESOLUTIONS IN EXPLANATION OF ACT

Sonoma Valley wineries have already begun to crush grapes and in conformity with a decision reached at a big meeting in Santa Rosa Wednesday the immense tonnage of wine grapes grown in this valley this season will not be allowed to rot on the vines despite the ruinous and farcical "war time" prohibition enactment, valid and final according to the interpretation of Judge Van Fleet. The growers decided to unite and proceed while Attorney Theodore Bell has appealed to the higher court from Van Fleet's decision which declared the act legitimate enforceable and wine grapes to be a food or fruit to be conserved for the army. Resolutions were passed by Sonoma County growers explaining their decision to crush the grapes as a protective measure and pledging that the juice would not be disposed of pending the lifting of the ban for any unlawful purpose.

There is much speculation going on in this valley on wine grapes and feverish bids are being made for the product of many of our vineyards, black grapes selling for $35 per ton and white grapes around $25, the buyers furnishing boxes. Two Eastern buyers have been in the valley for the past week or ten days bargaining for shipments. It is rumored that they bought the crop on the Gough place. They were in the market for 2000 ton.

Other sales made the past week have been mostly to local wineries who will both crush and ship their purchases. The crop on the famous Dresel vineyard, mostly white wine grapes of rare variety has been sold to Sam Sebastiani. The Goldstein vineyard above Agua Caliente has 25 men at work harvesting the crop there and it will be the latter part of November before the work is completed.

Rumor is rife that war time prohibition will be declared officially ended by October first. Meanwhile business people are marking time and many offers are being held in abeyance although local wineries are getting all the grapes they need at present.

The Cloverdale Reveille says:

Northern Sonoma's grapes are being harvested. Contrary to the predictions of some a market has been found for wine grapes this year. Good prices prevail. Grapes are bringing $30 per ton and better. This notwithstanding wartime prohibition is still on. Buyers commenced to do business Monday in a way that indicated that within a few days there would be but few unsold grapes in this vicinity. Most of the buyers are outside people, purchasing for eastern shipment. What will be the final disposition of these grapes going to the eastern market can only be conjectured. Judge Van Fleet of the Federal Court has decided that wine grapes are a food product under the meaning of the law, so it may be taken for granted that the people of the dry and effete East are going to eat 'em, for surely they would not make them into a beverage with enough alcohol content to produce a kick. Perish the thought! Sonoma county grapes are now a food product and we were mistaken all these many years when we thought they were fit for nothing but wine purposes.

Tuesday approximately 1700 tons of grapes were contracted for in Cloverdale. Wednesday more contracts were made and it should be the matter of only a day or two until all grape growers have disposed of their crop. The grapes are not all going east, however. It looks as though a considerable quantity would be crushed. Several of the wineries in this vicinity started up Tuesday and Wednesday, taking a chance. What the outcome will be is going to be watched with interest. Those crushing say they must do so in order to save their crops. They will hold the juice with the expectation of being able to dispose of it later on.

FORTY HOURS OF DEVOTION

Rev. Father Lewis, O. P., from San Francisco was the celebrant of the Forty Hours of Devotion at St. Francis church this week. The beautiful ceremonial was attended by many devout parishoners.

Tom Caulfield, the popular Petaluman who was injured at the rodeo during Fleet week has entirely recovered and was "stepping out" at Wilson's jazz dance here last Saturday night. Tom is a minstrel man and comedian of note.

Supervisor Weise was in town Monday and is just able to be around after a severe attack af rheumatism. Harry's friends say it looks like the gout, but our supervisor says in these days of high costs, "it can't be did". but ouw supervisor says in these days of high cost of living "it can't be did"

Granville Harris and party, including Miss Cooper and the McDonaid families of Berkeley and Fresno, have returned from a fine outing in the Sierras. They enjoyed the trip and encountered fine weather until their return home during the hot spell of last week.

Yes, The Farmers Could Help Some

THE OKLAHOMA FARMERS' UNION is entirely consistent in its stand concerning the railroads' plan for government ownership of the railroads. In resolutions adopted at their meeting at Clinton, the members of the farmers' union put forward this proposition:

"If congress in its wisdom sees fit to give these railroad men their demands, we ask that congress shall also buy all of the farms in the United States, with their equipment, and employ all of the farmers to operate them, paying to the farmers a wage equal to two-thirds of the hourly wage that the average railway employee receives; and then sell all farm products to the consumer at cost."

The alternative proposition of the farmers is just as reasonable as that advanced by the railroad unions. In fact, more reasonable, because in the case of the government ownership of farms, the product would be sold to the consumer at cost; whereas the railroad unions propose that the railroads be run at a profit and that they be given a large share of the profits. In their proposal, the farmers agree to give all the profits from the farms to the public and still be content with an hourly wage epual to two-thirds of what is paid the average railway employee. Of course, the farmers are really not so selfish as to insist that the masses of the people go heavily into debt to buy the farms and insure the farmers a higher wage. They simply proposed— and justly—that if the people bought the railroads for the railway workers, they also should, as a matter of fairness, buy the farms for the farmers.

If the masses of the people are to pay for buying the railroads for any class of workers, it would be better to buy them and donate them to the farmers. The latter are more interested than are the railroad workers in guaranteeing to the public an uninterrupted operation of trains and an efficient service at the lowest cost.

Or, the railroads might be bought and donated to the carpenters or the bricklayers or the laborers who are engaged in manufacturing automobiles or other special products. The railroads might just as well be donated to any of these classes of workers as to the railroad employees, if the masses of the people are going to foot the bill.

It is significant that while the railroad workers insist on sharing the profits of the railroads, they do not propose to share any a deficit that occurs in operating the roads. The railroad employees do not intend to stand any loss, but to make their earnings as high as possible at the expense of the public. One of the brotherhood leaders objects to the plan of putting railroad profits back into the railroads in the form of improvements. If the government-ownership, profit-sharing plan were put into effect, it is possible that the railroad union men would divide the profits among themselves and their operators. Then if it was found necessary to make improvements they would issue bonds and thus make the public pay for the improvements.

Although any form of government ownership of railroads is unthinkable, the plan proposed by the railroad brotherhoods is the worst yet brought forward. It is especially vicious because it proposes legislation for a particular class of workers and provides that these workers shall be given special benefits for which the great majority of other workers will pay. The railroad employees constitute only about three percent of all employees in the United States. Yet they insist that their will shall be supreme over all. —Oklahoma City Oklahoman

Strikes And Lockouts

WITH STRIKES and lockouts looming everywhere, it is apparent that the general business and social tone of the United States government is seriously disturbed. Since the workers are a large part of the society which they continue to foment and are consumers of our commodities as well as producers, it tends to confuse to the utmost, the onlooker who cannot but wonder how any stability can be brought about through the methods resorted to. When a workman listens to agitation or becomes agitated through dwelling on conditions, or worse still, enters into a sympathetic strike to enforce somebody's demands hundreds or thousands of miles away, he is conscious assuredly that he is disrupting the public convenience and throwing things out of plumb. Yet labor continues to advise direct action with a total disregard for the public, of which its members are a part, and of late, we have had the absurd spectacle of a policeman's union striking and rioting, which was one of the most direct blows at law and order yet pulled off. It looked for all the world like an I. W. W. joke on society to read of the guardians of law and order, in proper, staid, Boston, ("bulls") so to speak, in a china shop) going upon a rampage as though there was no court of appeal, no instrument of law by which the people could seek protection. The court of public opinion however, is a stronger factor than calculated, and one with which even policemen must reckon. Public opinion is soundly considering the whole miserable spectacle and has about made up its mind that strikes and lockouts must be made unlawful and arbitration resorted to. Demands by organized bodies should permit but two things, the right to leave the employ of the concern which hires, or the opportunity to submit grievances and to seek redress through a board of arbitration, corresponding to a jury in every respect. Under such a plan, farmers who have risked their all and worked early and late to mature a crop, would not find themselves at the mercy of those transporting their crops to market and be forced to discharge help, shut down canneries and cut off payrolls, thereby inflicting hardship on a class of workers in no wise to blame for their perdicament. There is little sympathetic feeling apparent in such crises outside of circles where the blatant voice of well paid leaders hammers in the virtue of the sympathetic strike and levies the per capita tax in unions, compelled to aid the lockout.

Under the enforced arbitration plan there would be no need for mayors like Ole Hansen or for district attorney's jeopardizing their safety in the enforcement of law ruthlessly broken. There is far too much protection expected under the present recognized rights of disruptionists. No mayor or officer should have to cope with conditions such as arise now.

Under the enforced arbitration plan, unions would be a splendid thing for which society would have the proper respect and recognition, knowing that their operations were in accordance with the justice of their demands and the legitimacy of their being. The public would more cheerfully pay high prices for commodities, in the production of which honest labor got its just deserts, instead of an inflated and unwarranted rake-off by means of intimidation, coercion or violence.

In the present steel workers crisis, the fact has come out that since 1914, the average daily pay per employee, has jumped 116 per cent. Just what part of this raise was necessary or warranted, is hard to detetrmine, as just how much it effected the cost of every allied commodity and how much it boosted every community upon which gougers and profiteers saw an opportunity to feed fat. The strike arrangement by which steel workers hope to strike even a higher mark, will but bring the high cost of living closer on their heels and thus the fallacy of the nostrum of more money, less work, lockouts and knockouts, stands out against a background, pitiful to contemplate, for in it are men of brains and splendid utility, wasting their energies and talent, grappling with conditions which should be taken firmly in hand and circumscribed with laws fitted to the exigeney. It has got to be worked out in sane fashion or it will be worked out in revolutionary fashion. We are getting dangerously near the vortex, judging from the recent trend of things. The proposed conference between labor and capital will probably complicate conditions. Less talk, and action of the right kind and from the right source is what the country needs before it is too late. Education and evolution may be the real panacea for the complications we view with alarm, but although modern educational methods are speeding up evolutionary processes, an acute condition now confronts us which must be dealt with at once. The melting pot in the U. S. A. is boiling over altogether too often and with increasing aforethought, disturbance and disaster.

LIFE IS JUST one d..... investigation after another. Now they are giving sausages a rest, they are kicking the stuffing out of mattresses. The Department of Weights and Measures says that disinfected parts of old hospital matresses go into some of the mattresses put on the market. Well Well, an honest hair mattress should carry with it the pedigree of the carcass whence it came and floss and shoddy's pedigree should be clearly outlined too. We do not really know which is the lumpiest, some mattresses or some phases of politics with their endless chain of investigations, commissions and reforms and everyone of this curative trio alive with job chasers.

RETURN AFTER YEARS OF RESIDENCE IN BOHEMIA

Mrs. A. Perutz and two sons have arrived here for a visit with their relatives, the Dresel family, after an absence of fifteen years, during which time they have been residing in Bohemia. Mrs. Perutz was Miss Frieda Gundlach, a sister of Mrs. Carl Dresel. Her husband was connected with a San Francisco bank before taking up his residence in Europe. The children are natives of the United States and the young men while residing in the enemy country during the war, were not called for army service. The home coming of Mrs. Perutz and family is causing much rejoicing in the old families of Rhine Farm, and among the descendants of the late Jacob Gundlach, the famed pioneer viticulturist of Sonoma Valley.

OLE JOHNSON BUYS FORMER ALLISON PLACE

Ole Johnson of Agua Caliente has purchased the former Allison ranch of 144 acres. The ranch is mostly in vineyard and was sold by its non-resident owner, Philip Chubb at a price said to be about half its former value. Chubb was a victim of prohibition's aftermath and felt that he must sacrifice his property under existing conditions. Ole Johnson was about to acquire a ranch in the Sacramento valley when he heard of this good buy right here. The sale was consummated by T. H. Baines, El Verano's prominent realty man.

A GOOD FRIEND OF SONOMA AND AN APPRECIATIVE ONE

The following nice notice appeared in last week's Times Journal of Ukiah edited by the talented woman journalist, Anna Morrison Reed:

At Sonoma, in the Sonoma Valley, a Harvest Carnival will be held Oct. 3rd and 4th.

There will be exhibits of farm and ranch products, with generous cash awards for the best displays. Beside the agricultural exhibits, there will be a street Fair, "Joyland" replete with attractions.

Sonoma is the old historic town, where opulent, golden hearted California was born.

It would be a delightful trip to run over from Ukiah, by auto, to the harvest carnival.

A visit to the old Mission and the Plaza, where so many things happened long ago, would repay one for the trip."

IMPROVEMENTS ON RAILROAD PROGRESS

Northwestern Pacific In Face of Criticism Speeds Up Work On Road Rumor of Wingo Route Opening.

In the face of a volley of criticism in which critics got in wrong too, the Northwestern Pacific railroad, accused of causing railroad blight in this section through poor service and greedy manipulation, is making a proud showing all along the line with its work trains and construction crews. Whether the work has been speeded up by the adverse advertising this branch got or whether it is just a coincidence, is hard to say, but it is needless to remark that the traveling public notes the improvements going on with keen interest and appreciation. Work trains with big engines and capacity loads of gravel are ballasting the track from Schellville to Ignacio and we are promised smooth riding from this on instead of bumping over the ties as formerly. Several surveys of importance have been made and trestles have been inspected. Several new concrete supports are to be substituted for the wooden ones which have outlived their usefulness. It is also rumored that the railroad company plans to re-open the Wingo Napa route to San Francisco.

In the meantime, the author of the article, "In The Grip of a Railroad" is busy defending himself from the charge that he gave our more pretentious neighbors, Petaluma and Napa, a "black eye" by refering to abandoned homes and scenes of desolation in Sonoma county. They resent the kind of advertising we got and though the writer says his story's aim was constructive, the county seat and the "Egg Basket" are after him hammar and tongs.

Sonoma is pleased to see a response from the Northwestern officials and hope the present improvements are forerunners of quicker service and better schedules between this Valley and San Francisco.

L. H .GREENS ARE HOME AGAIN

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Green and Miss Florence Green have returned from their fine outing up North. Miss Florence drove the Overland country club car almost the entire distance. The party visited Bartlett Springs and later went up to Klamath Falls. They were much impressed with the automobile camps provided by different communities for the accommodation of travelers and think it would be a splendid innovation for Sonoma. Mr. Green declares that auto camping parties stop in the towns providing the camps conveniences and says they leave a lot of money among the trades people of these communities.

Miss Stella McGill has been enjoying a visit from her cousins, Elizabeth and Lucile Reed of Antioch.

A card has been received from Mrs Angove who is visiting in the old mining comp, Jamestown. She had not been there for ten years and writes that she sees many changes and is enjoying her visit exceedingly.

BOYES HAS A BURBANK

Dear K. C. B.:—

You get some good Boyes Springs stuff but not all of it.

* * * * *

For instance if you were "hep" to the inside info of that good town

* * * * *

* * * * *

While he is not just like Art Hickman, he is a celebrity nevertheless

* * * * *

"Smiles" was named after Jim.

* * * * *

He's in the real estate business at Boyes and thinks real estate so rich that he wouldn't give the smallest fraction under his finger nail (we have no manicure girls in our barber shop) for a lot on Market Street.

* * * * *

In your town he owns some too but thinks you can only grow bald and tired in Frisco, whereas Boyes Springs will grow anything.

* * * * *

Someone wanted him to cultivate the farm advisor or almanac about planting but Jim said anything would grow anytime on his land and he planted his lot to flower seed, a gift of a lady friend.

* * * *

No commuter ever tended his garden like James, he raked and sprinkled and weeded,

* * * * *

And someone asked the name of the pansies-to-be, but he said a rose by any name would be just the same to him and he'd be satisfied with peonies poppies or tiger lilies.

* * * * *

At first the flower seeds didn't show but after due time something did show and the Burbank-like enthusiasm of the gardener was the wonderment of the neighborhood.

* * * *

He had all the boquets picked and signed up with Pelicanno & Rossi in his minds eye and a space all selected at the Land Show,

* * * *

And Boyes homesites selling liks hot cakes.

It was all doped out when suddenly he detected something blushing like a bride on the wrong end of his thriving plants,

* * * *

And someone with a pull came along and now Steves Grill is furnishing radish sandwiches.

* * * *

Jim say they pulled something on him or else he planted the seeds up side down.

WOODLEAF PARK HAD FIRE SCARE

Woodleaf Park, the attractive residence section of Boyes Springs had a narrow escape from a serious conflagration last Sunday when a grass fire started and burned over an area of two and a half acres. The Little Red Devil, Boyes dependable chemical was soon on the scene, however, and in the face of intense heat, put out several incipient blazes which threatened great loss to nearby property. The grass fire was finally controlled and Chief Cause and Fire warden Baines won the plaudits of the community for effective work as did other gallant volunteers, among whom was Chas. Anderson, (Razor Pete) who fought fire till he was black in the face.

A little boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Prestwood (nee Louise Callieaud) on the 20th. The little one makes Principal J. F. Prestwood of the Grammar School a grandpa.

Milton Sobbe of Glen Ellen has received his honorable discharge from the army and the hero of the Argonne will take up vocational training provided by Uncle Sam. Sobbe who lost an arm in the war will be given a two years scholarship at Healds Business College and will study business management there.

WILSON'S DANCE DECIDED SUCCESS

The jazz dance given by Wilson's orchestra of Boyes Springs at Union Hall here last Saturday night was a decided success. The music was par-excellence and the local crowd was augmented by visitors from nearby towns. Wilson has just closed a very successful season at Boyes Springs theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn MacQuiddy have arrived in Nebraska where Mr. MacQuiddy will complete his medical course at the university there.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cassidy and Mrs. Al Stein are to enjoy a two weeks motor trip in Southern California.

GREAT CHANCE FOR TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE IN THE U. S. MARINE CORPS

The U. S. Marine Corps has just issued an order authorizing all Marine Recruiting Stations to enlist men for a short period of two years instead of four.

This new order is hailed by all the Officers and Men in the U. S. Marine Corps as being the greatest boost to that famous unit of Uncle Sam's fighters and it is expected that but a short time will be required to fill the organization to its full strength.

Hundreds of young Americans who craved for adventure, travel and education were barred from realizing their ambitious desires by the prohibitive long period of four years. That obstacle has been removed.

Students of the Ancient and Modern History who read about the wonders of Egypt, Carthage, Rome, Greece and other centers of Civilization and learning, have a chance, within a short period of two years, to see the wonders, study of which was so fascinating. This chance is open to all, rich and poor alike, because one needs no money for traveling expenses. Besides free travel, a man in the U. S. Marine Corps gets from $80.00 to $125.00 a month, including clothes and subsistance.

As a general rule, a young man enlisting in the U. S. Marine Corps can pick out his own place where he wish es to serve. It is very seldom and only in extreme emergencies that a man is sent to a station that he does not like. Because the U. S. Marines serve in all parts of the world, there is enough variety of climate and scenery to satisfy and ordinary man.

SHIPMENT GOES OVER

The action of the New Piedmont Wine Company, of which Secundo Alciati is one of the leading spirits, against Louis Kunde, was scheduled to be tried before Judge Thomas C. Denny Tuesday, but the Judge was forced to go to Martinez and occupy the bench in the court of Judge Mackenzie. Attorneys Hiram E. Casey, who represents the defendant, and Albert Picard, for the plaintiffs, agreed that the new date should be chosen for the first part of November. The case was continued to appear on the calendar next Monday to be then set by Judge Denny.

The suit involves a claim for damages, amounting to $6900 on the shipment of 46,000 gallons of wine by Kunde to the New Piedmont Wine Company.—Republican.

CHAPEL A GIFT FROM FORMER SONOMA RESIDENT

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 9, the chapel at Seigler Springs, Lake Co., was dedicated by Most Rev. Archbishop Hanna.

The ceremony was a very simple, but extremely impressive. Holy Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Capistrano, O. F. M., and served by Rev. Father Leonard, O. F. M.

The chaplains to His Grace were Rev. Arthur O'Connell and Rev. Edgar Boyle, who is spending his vacation at the Springs.

The Archbishop preached a sermon dealing with rest for body while resting in the quietude of the valleys and mountains. We must not forget our spiritual life. Here we will have ample means to refresh our souls with an abundance of grace by visiting our dear Lord in this chapel, said His Grace.

URGE SENATE TO HASTEN PEACE

TREATY WITHOUT AMENDMENT

Say Every Day of Delay Puts World in Imminent Peril of New War — Point to National Unrest.

New York—(Special)—Two hundred and fifty leading Americans, Republicans and Democrats, representing forty different states and every prominent activity have joined in a nonpartisan effort to bring about the ratification of the Peace Treaty "without amendment and without delay." Their names are attached to an address to the United States Senate, which was made public through the League to Enforce Peace, after it had been sent to every member of the Senate.

The signers, almost without exception, are men and women of national reputation. They include such prominent citizens as ex-President Taft, George W. Wickersham, attorney general, in the last Republican administration; A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard; Charles C. Moore of San Francisco, president the Panama Exposition; Judge George C. Moore of San Francisco, president of Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association; Cyrus H. K. Curtis, the Philadelphia publisher; President Heber J. Grant of he Mormon Church, and Spargo, leader of the Socialists who supported the war.

The signers declare that every day of delay in ratifying the treaty puts the world in "imminent peril of new war."

Their statement follows:

In the Senate at Washington, now that the committee on foreign relations has reported the treaty, the lines are sharply drawn between the immediate ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany, and its amendment with a reassembling of the conference and a reopening of negotiations that would bring great delay and prolonged uncertainty in settling the great issues of the peace. No partisan plea can be made. Party lines are already broken.

Standing at a distance from the conflict in the Senate chamber, we plead for immediate ratification without delay. Our land requires it. A state of nervous strain, tension and unrest exists manifesting itself in disturbances, which in some cases have no self evident connection with the war, but which are, in fact, its aftermath. The world is put in imminent peril of new wars by the lapse of each day. Dissensions between us and our former allies are being sown. We firmly believe and solemnly declare that the states and cities in which we dwell desire immediate peace.

The waging of war steadied and united the American people. Peace will bring prosperity, and prosperity content. Delay in the Senate postponing ratification in this uncertain period of neither peace nor war has resulted in indecision and doubt, breed strife and quickened the cupidity of those who sell the daily necessities of life and the fears of those whose daily wage no longer fills the daily market basket.

We beseech the Senate to give the land peace and certainty by a ratification which will not keep us longer in the shadows of possible wars, but give the whole world the light of peace. Reservations in the nature of clarifications in the meaning of the treaty, not inconsistent with its terms, will not require the reopening of the negotiations with Germany, and with our associates in the war, which we all and each united to win.

But there is no possibility of doubt that amendment of the treaty, as is now proposed by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, would require negotiation and a reopening of all the questions decided at Paris. Months of delay would follow. The perils of the present would become the deadly dangers of the near future. All the doubt engendered would aid the plots for violent revolution in this and other lands. The issues here and elsewhere between capital and labor the conspiracy of speculator and profiteer, would all grow and become more perilous.

This cannot be. The American people cannot, after a victorious war, permit its government to petition Germany, which has accepted the treaty, for its consent to changes in the treaty. Yet if the United States should amend the treaty for its own purpose and policy, Germany would have full right to ask for concessions. Germany has agreed to make no claim in regard to enemy property seized in this country to an amount of seven hundred million dollars. Our recent foe could ask for a reopening of this issue and of the Lusitania claims. It could raise every question open before hostilities in regard to submarine warfare and the treatment of its nationals in this country. All the provisions for our trade in Germany raised by the economic clauses of the treaty, many of them vital to our industries and our farms, as in dye patents, dye supplies and fertilizers, the working of the Reparation Commission, which superintends the trade of all with Germany, could all be brought up by Berlin for readjustment by our negotiators, acting for the United States alone and no longer associated with other victorious powers or supported by a victorious American army on the German border.

Peace itself, the peace of the world, is delayed until ratification comes. And any amendment postpones peace. Germany and England alone of the principal powers have ratified The other principals necessarily await our action, influential and powerful as we are today in the world's affairs. The ravages of war on more than a score of fighting fronts are continued by any needless delay. Let the Senate give the world peace by ratification without amendment.

Welcome little Native Son of the Golden West
Sleeping so peacefully on thy mother's breast
With a smile of innocence on your face serene
Angels surely whisper to you in your dreams.

Even the amendment for which most can be said, the provision in regard to Shantung, will secure nothing which cannot be gained if China, backed by the powerful advocacy of the United States, addresses itself to the machinery for righting international wrongs and meeting just claims created by the league between nations. China, after eighty years of oppressive treaties and despoiled rights, by which all the great powers have profited directly or indirectly, has for the first time, in this covenant and treaty, the means and method to secure justice and the removal of the oppressive economic interference of stronger nations whose citizens are within her gates, protected by a long succession of international agreements. Moreover, it should be remembered that the clause regarding Shangtung was made upon the statement by Japan that she will return the territory to China and, therefore, upon that condition, compliance with which promise the league can require.

The peace of the present and the righteousness of the future can be best secured by the ratification of the covenant and treaty without amendment. Let the Senate take no action that will give any party to the treaty, and especially Germany, ground for maintaining that the ratification of the United States is not complete and that changes requiring a resumption of conference and negotiations have been made in it.

STEAL AUTO AND WRECK IT

Four Youths Who Took 'Lizzie' From Circus at Petaluma Captured By Sheriff Petray's Deputy.

A quartette of youths, later giving their names as Kowkalski, Musselman Carter and Huerra, were arrested in Vallejo Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan and charged with stealing a Ford and wrecking it at Schellville. The car, a new "Lizzie" was taken from the circus at Petaluma. It belonged to a lady residing there who immediately notified the police. Sheriff Petray got on the trail of the gang a few hours after the theft, tracing them first to Napa Junction, Suisun and then back to Vallejo.

The finding of a wrecked car at Schellville in which four fellows were riding in earlier in the day led the officers to suspect that its occupants who left that place in a box car were the much wanted culprits. The sheriff's office followed the trail of the escapes to Vallejo where the Chief of Police there had noticed four fellows answering the description of the much wanted men. They were finally located in the early hours of the morning at the Vallejo Y. M. C. A. where they had applied for a place to sleep. It was there that deputy Sheriff Ryan made the arrest and despite the denial of the gang that they were implicated, the quartette was handcuffed and brought to Sonoma Frank McGill of the S. P. railway junction identified two of the fellows as those seen at the auto wreck at Schellville and Mrs. Joe Keiser also recognized them. At 2 a. m. they were landed in jail and were later taken to the hotel de Petray to await their preliminary hearing.. Enroute to Santa Rosa one of the gang admitted having wrecked the car.

The following account of the theft of the car and capture of the four alleged to have been implicated in the affair is taken from the Petaluma Argus of Wednesday:

"Tuesday afternoon, Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan of Sonoma Valley detected an auto theft in Petaluma before the owner of the car or the Petaluma officers knew that the car had been stolen.

The car belonged to Mrs. R. McCleary of Cotati, who went to the circus and left her car parked on East D street. Before the circus was over and while the owner of the car was still in the tent, Deputy Ryan phoned to Chief Flohr that four men had passed there in a Ford car. They acted suspiciously. Two of the men wore army uniforms and one an overseas cap and Chief Flohr and others remembered having seen men of this

MILLERICKS SCORE AT RODEO

Win Many Events at Ferndale Meet With Talented Outfit.

The Millerick brothers, Tom and John, returned home on Wednesday after a week's racing in Ferndale, Humboldt Co., where they met with great success, winning eleven races out of twelve starts and finishing third in the other.

Their good old campaigner, Delaney beat the pride of Humboldt county, Trinity Prince, and put an awful crimp in the bank-roll's of the Ferndale and Eureka sports, as they considered the Prince invincible.

The boys have a wonderful filly in Bernice E., who, after being practically left at the post, overtook and ran over the top of her field, a very classy lot of three-year-olds. Under the able handling of "Butch" Vint, we look for her to develop into one of the fastest mares in the country.

Ben Dobbins, the "cowboy tenor", entertained the vast throng during intermissions by rendering several vocal solos, which were met by salvos of applause. His rendition of the beautiful old ballad "Why Did They Dig the Ocean so Close to the Sand", caused many a tear amongst the ladies and Ben had to respond to several encores. Angelo Scafani, the noted trick bull rider had the audience "up in the air" as they did not know who was doing the tricks, Angelo or the bull.

Norman and Hazen Cowan, champion "bronk" riders from Glen Ellen distinguished themselves by their daring horsemanship; Hazen broke all existing records by bull-dogging a steer in eight seconds.

The Millericks will rest their stock at the ranch for a couple of days before going to Fresno and Los Angeles.

Frank Engler, a hero of the recent war was in town Sunday visiting his father and sister.

Mrs. Lenora Fochetti has been chosen floor manager for the Native Daughters Ball on October 18th.

Mrs. Susie Batchelor visited her son Wayne and family at Sacramento this week.

Wm. Trudgen has been quite ill at his home above town.

When the circus was over, the theft of the car was learned and the police were notified and then Chief Flohr rang up Ryan and got him busy."

The Ford overturned in front of the Antone Newman place in Schellville as it was being driven at a high rate of speed, and turned out to let

CLUB NOTES

The social meeting of the Womans Club on Friday last, opened with an unusually large attendance in spite of the high temperature. Among the ladies were three members of our sister club of Glen Ellen, who had kindly made the trip to learn how they might best assist in our coming Carnival. Necessary business consisted of roll call of officers, the report of the membership committee whereby six new names were enrolled. Chairmen of the two committees on Carnival reported very encouraging progress, as did also the heads of various booths. It was decided to admit as guests, both to the grounds and to the Ball on Saturday evening, Oct. 4th the returned service men of our town and valley. The corresponding Secretary was instructed to send written invitations to neighboring clubs to attend the Carnival. An extra meeting of the club was announced for Friday, Sept. 26. The regular business meeting for Oct. falling on the 3rd was postponed until the 10th.

This completing business, Mrs. Burlingame took charge of the program. In opening, Mrs. Emparan very sweetly sang "In dear old California Sunny Dells," after which Mrs. Burlingame told the club of her recent trip with the Sierra Club in the high Sierras and Tuolosme Meadows. The lady was clad in the regulation hiking costume worn upon such occasions, thus giving a realistic touch to her account of scenes, mode of travel, the well conducted commisary and also the amusements and jolly times about the camp fires at night. Mrs. Burlingame also told of the purposes of the Sierra Club. In closing, she sang in a graphic and amusing fashion, two typical ballads from the Sierra Club song book and then called upon the ladies to partake of iced tea and cookies in mountain camp style.

Much pleasure was expressed by those present.
